

Birmingham's Botanical Gardens, unhampered by summer's drought or winter frost, show beautiful floral displays every season of the year.

Featuring the largest conservatory and garden area in the Deep South, this showplace has attracted almost 250,000 visitors since the public first glimpsed the gardens in 1962.

The crowds come to see the Japanese Garden, 2000 rose plants and a floral clock worth $15,000. They stroll the gardens sprouting 67 acres, seeing orchids, lilies, dogwoods, wild flowers, 1000 azaleas and an arboretum filled with rare plants, shrubs and trees.

A huge banana tree blooms in the doorway near the 26 foot floral clock which keeps perfect time. Skilled gardeners nurture tropical and flowering plants for year-round viewing. Seasonal displays show poinsettias and camellias in winter, assorted bulbs at Easter and chrysanthemums later in the year.

Birmingham is Alabama's largest city, but the Botanical Gardens are Many widows may be unaware of a change in the social security law and still think they have to wait until they become 62 to collect social security widow's benefits. This is the concern of Mr. Harry N. Scott, district manager of social security, in Dothan.

Until the change in the law, effective September, 1965, the widow of a man who had worked under social security could not qualify for monthly widow's benefits until she reached 62. Now, she can elect to have her payments start as early as her 60th birthday, but in smaller installments.

Mr. Scott pointed out that generally women choose to take these reduced benefits will collect the same amount in benefits over the years. He urged widows, who may have been waiting for their 62nd birthday, to call or visit the social security office in Dothan to find out how the age-sixty rule would work out in their particular cases.

The social security office in Dothan is located in the Federal Building, 100 West Troy Street. The telephone number is 794-3161. The office is open from 8:45 A.M. to 5:00 P.M., Monday through Friday, and from 8:00 A.M. to 12:00 Noon on Saturdays.

HOW MUCH DID A COLOR TV COST 25 YEARS AGO?

Since it didn't exist 25 years ago there is no way to estimate the cost. The same reasoning applies to the cost of today's refrigerators. Most of today's fridges didn't even exist 25 years ago, so they could not be bought at any price. When you consider the uses that have been saved, the rapid changes that have resulted in modern medicines, it's no wonder we say:

Andrews Presented

"Watchdog" Award By Businessmen

Representative George Andrews (D-Ala.) was presented with the National Associated Businessmen's "Watchdog of the Treasury" award recently at a ceremony in the nation's capital. Congressman Andrews received the NAB award for his seventy-five percent economy voting record for the 89th Congress, 1965-1966.

In congratulating the Alabama Representative, Mr. Elton Kyle, NAB President, said "Your outstanding economy voting record indicates to our membership that you have a keen realization of the problems of fiscal responsibility. I congratulate you on the courage you have shown in standing up to oppose those who are blind to the possibility of increasing the efficiency and the reduction in the scale of Federal programs. Your economy voting record is a constructive achievement of which you and your constituents can be justly proud."

DEMOCRATS MAKE CLEAN SWEEP OF STATE OFFICES

Lurleen Wallace won the race for governor of Alabama by a landslide in Tuesday's general election. Though state reports were far from complete it appeared that she had won the governor's race by what could end up being near 70 per cent. At the time The Clipper had to go to press late Wednesday afternoon, Codey Conny still could not release the vote for this county.

Tuesday was the first time voters have had a choice between Democrat, Republican or Independent candidates for governor, since Reconstruction in a governor's race.

John Sparkman defeated Republican Don Groner, apparently with professional ease. This was Sparkman's first serious threat to his long career in Washington. Sparkman ended his 20th year in the U. S. Senate last Sunday. He's been a part of the Alabama delegation to Washington since he came out on top of a four-man contest for congress in 1936, seeking his fourth full four-year term in the Senate after replacing the late Senator John H. Bankhead in 1946. Coffee County approved to Sparkman's election.

Statewide campaigns resulted in the election of his unit to Place No. 2 on the Alabama Public Service Commission. She has been on the commission since 1954, and she has held public office in the state for 30 years. She was opposed by Julie Connell, the Republican nominee.

Agnes Baggett, the Democratic nominee for State Treasurer, was elected over her Republican opponent, Jack Calaway. Melba Till Allen, Democrat for State Auditor, was elected over her Republican opponent, Alice Hudson. MacDonald Gallion was re-elected Attorney General over his Republican opponent, Donald L. Collins.

Republican candidates for governor in the south fared much better in neighboring states of Alabama, Claude Kirk at Troy, who was very cooperative in this rearrangement saying "We might need you to help us in the same way sometime". Their only request was that Elba help them find a replacement for this week.

Elba's opponent for the game has not been selected yet. This selection will be made following scheduled games this week. Possible opponents include Headland, Abbeville and Ashford with Abbeville being the one most likely to be selected. They meet Headland this week and the winner of that game will get the first offer.

Peanut Bowl officials have assured Elba school officials that an ample number of tickets will be available in Elba prior to the game. Elba has been reserved one side of the field to fill so anyone planning to attend the game will find sufficient tickets available in Elba beginning next week.

Elba coaches and school officials will meet in Dothan Monday night with Bowl officials and officials of the team selected to oppose them.

The Elba Tigers have accepted an invitation to play in the 1966 Peanut Bowl. The game will be played in Dothan on Thanksgiving night, Thursday, November 24. Game time is 7:30 P. M.

Elba has cancelled the game this week with Troy to remain eligible for the Bowl trip. By mutual consent with Troy officials at Troy were very cooperative in this rearrangement.

see Republican ever elected to the U. S. Senate by popular vote Tuesday. Arkansas elected a Republican governor, and Georgia's Republican candidate Callaway was out front over Mad-dox, the ax-handle Democratic candidate. In Georgia it is necessary for a candidate to receive a majority of the vote before he can be declared elected. Callaway had approximately 48.9 per cent of the total; Mad-dox 45.9 and Ellis Aron, a write-in candidate between 5 to 6 per cent of the vote.
In that race it will have to be decided in the state legislature or in the courts since no candidate received above 50 per cent of the votes cast, it has been indicated by some members of the state legislature that the decision will be sent to the courts. California elected Republican Ronald Reagan over Democratic Pat Brown.

Wilson Baker was elected over incumbent Jim Clark for Sheriff of Dallas County. That was one of the bitterest political battles in the state. Clark was a write-in candidate. Baker the Democratic nominee. In that race Clark was running neck and neck with Baker and for several hours it was only a one-vote difference between them. Unofficial count now gives Baker several hundred votes to the good.

THIS HAS been the most interesting election I have ever experienced. For the first time the Democrats had to get up and bump in an off-year general election in Alabama. Though the Democrats did themselves proud in Alabama, the Republicans gained more in the nation than the Democrats. For sure Lurleen Wallace is a very gracious lady. She has progressed so very much during her campaign for governor. There is a great possibility that she will make a better governor than her husband. I would prefer that she be governor and not leave it up to her husband, though I realize that most voters cast their ballot for her expecting George Wallace to be the governor. But I have an idea she will have to be governor for George will not be in Alabama much during the next two years. He made the promise before the election that he would be running for president as a third party candidate. He has surprised many of us in the past and he may surprise us again but I don't think he will receive the support in 1968 that he did two years ago. In 1966 the white back-lash will be old and there may not be the bloc voting then that has been done in Alabama this year. But regardless of how we feel about the two candidates for governor the people have spoken and they selected Lurleen Wallace. Let us hope that she will make Alabama the best leader we have ever had.

I HAVE an idea that Alabama has done something that no other state has done. The anything for certainly George Wallace has dug them in every speech he made.

And what about Lurleen? She signed a loyalty pledge to support the nominee of the Democratic Party in the presidential election in 1968.

THERE HAS been a lot of comments about the Republicans in Alabama nominating their candidates in convention while the Democrats were nominated in primaries. But as things are developing right now the Democrats may be forced to nominate in convention four years from now as well as the Republicans. If George Wallace takes Alabama down the road of a third party with a majority, which I sort of doubt, the Democrats will be forced with not being allowed to hold primaries. Wonder what they will say then about nominating in convention. Will nominating by convention suddenly become ally-white to the Democrats? Or will the Democrats do away with the loyalty pledge so the George Wallace can then return to Alabama after his defeat for president and be allowed to run as a Democrat. These are among the things that will be interesting to watch. The Democrats may find themselves in an embarrassing position in 1970.

THOUGH THE Democrats ran away with the election in Florida the Republicans gained a lot of support and there is a possibility that it will increase during the next four years. Florida gave Jim Martin 204 votes and it has not been but a short time when more than a couple of Republican votes were considered a calamity. And Beat 9 (Florida) gave Republican Bill Dickerson 413 votes to Bob Whaley's 456. And Whaley is a native of Covington County.

I'M GLAD the election is now behind us. I can get back to talking about the grandchildren, the cats and dogs, the bees and Mac's capers, etc.

AND WE WILL all remain neighbors. All remain friends. All remain in business, just as we have these past 40 years. We will all continue to progress just as we have during the past years. Most of us have seen much harder times and can survive still further defeats, though no one enjoys "defeat." And let us remember that every dog has his day. I have seen that demonstrated time and time again so let us be careful that we do not get into a position that we regret, yet have to face later.

I REMEMBER a story told in Elba of an election not so many years ago when polling officials came across a Republican vote, and wondering what to do with it, laid it aside to figure out later. Before completing the count, they came across another Republican vote and said they'd just throw them out for some nut had voted twice. Republican votes at that short time back were as scarce as hen's teeth. So you can get some idea as to the progress Republicans have made in this area at all.

I STILL SAY George Wallace is the smartest politician since the hey-days of Jim Folsom, as good but no better, but the worst businessman the State of Alabama has ever had as its leader.

AT THIS TIME, when nations all around the world are struggling to establish governments, which give the individual the right to a secret ballot, United States citizens should avail themselves of the right to vote at coming elections.

For nearly 200 years, United States citizens have enjoyed the privilege of being rulers of a republic, where the individual is boss and by his ballot can preserve his liberties. Unless one has lived under a dictator, it is hard to imagine what it would be like under a political system from which there was no relief except by resolution.

In the United States, you don't need guns and bullets to get rid of a tyrant, from the lowest to the highest public office. All you need is a load pencil and a paper ballot. Don't pass up your right to vote at every election. Remember it cost many men their lives to give you the privilege of using the ballot. It is your guarantee of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. If you haven't already done so, get yourself qualified to vote. It is your duty.

Mum Showing

In Progress

At Mobile

The once-a-year showing of mums of Bellinger Gardens is now at its prime and offers the "most spectacular outdoor display of mums in the world." Fred W. Holder, general manager of the gardens, announced Saturday.

At present, cascading mums, and mums in all other varieties virtually blanket the entire gardens. The mums this year are more beautiful than in the history of the gardens, but this is the only period of the year they can be seen in their present magnificence.

The manager said in urging visitors to see the gardens as soon as possible.

King Dennis Holmes and Queen Cathy Smith

Kinston Crowns Halloween Royalty

Kinston's annual Halloween Carnival was held Thursday, October 27. The carnival is sponsored each year by Kinston's elementary grades. Each penny made counts as one point. The boy and girl with the most points by the night of the carnival are the winners. This year's Queen is Cathy Smith, candidate of Mrs. Blackstock's first grade. Cathy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hefflin Smith, of Kinston. The King is Dennis Holmes, candidate of Mrs. Pierce's first and second grade. Dennis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ned Wilkerson, of Route One, Opp. Before the coronation of the King and Queen, everyone enjoyed various means of amusement at the carnival. Among these were a gypsy to look into your future, a gambling casino, a spook house, a fish pond, and a cake walk. You could also try your luck at ringing the basket from the free-throw line in the gym. After the coronation, there was a hot tent featuring local talent. To finish the evening, there was square dancing in the gym.

Ladies Offer Poppies In Honor Of War Victims

Every year near November 11th and May 30th volunteer women and girls of the American Legion Auxiliary distribute paper poppies as a memorial of World War I fame. These paper poppies are replicas of the poppies of "Flanders Field." Before the last guns had sounded along the western front during the fighting took place, the red poppies growing along the road sides, amid the fields of grain, or on scarred battlefields, had become associated with the allied soldiers who fought there. They also covered the graves of those who had died there. The poppies were the one immortal thing in that region of devastation.

When the soldiers returned home, they brought the vision of the poppy fields with them, and the poppy took on a sacred significance. It became the flower of remembrance for the nation's war dead. The auxiliary program in Alabama began each year with the patients at the Tuscaloosa VA Hospital when units throughout the state place orders for poppies. The Auxiliary purchases all the materials used in the poppy program. The hospital staff assigns patients to this work who have no income and those who are able to participate in this physical therapy project. They are paid for each poppy they make, and, for many, it is their only opportunity to earn money during the year. Psychiatrists report that it is a gratifying experience to see the happy expression of a patient when he has constructed a finished product with his own hands. The patients take great pride in this work, and they ask the Auxiliary for permission to make more and more poppies, not only for money, but because it affords an opportunity to do something productive.

The whole poppy program is administered by the National Headquarters of the American Legion Auxiliary. Distribution of the poppies is handled entirely by volunteer workers. Every penny received from the program goes directly for aid to disabled veterans or their families. Most of the funds remain in the communities in which they are raised. No price is placed on the flower. Donations of any amount are welcomed. The Auxiliary emphasizes that the main purpose is that of a memorial and to offer the American public an opportunity to honor the dead by aiding the living victims of war.

Please observe the following visiting hours: 10 to 11:30 a.m. and 2 to 4 p.m. on the afternoons, and 7 to 9 p.m. in the evenings.

Safety Precautions Cure Home Injuries

Caution: Housecleaning may be hazardous to your health. However, you can take the falls out of fall cleaning, and a few cuts and bruises are too, if you observe these safety precautions. First of all, don't try to do the whole operation in one day," suggests Extension Home Economist Carolyn Tew. "Spread the big jobs out over several days. This avoids fatigue and that last-minute rush which often contribute to house accidents."

While you're on your fall clean-up tour, you can correct safety hazards which might later cause injuries. Clean the litter off basement and attic stairs and put up guard rails if you don't have them already. Also check stairs and floors for loose or rotten boards, especially around porches. Fasten down those loose scatter rugs. The modern home is no place for flying carpets. Non-skid backings can save lots of black-and-blue spots. Watch for grease spots, out for fire hazards. Frayed electric cords on appliances or lamps, overloaded circuits, defective chimneys and flues, oil rags stored improperly—all can cause fires which will wipe out a lifetime investment in a matter of minutes.

Deadline Nears For Legal Notice

NROTC Exam Applications

The deadline date for making application for the regular NROTC qualifying examination is fast approaching. Applications must be received by the Educational Testing Service on or before November 18, 1966. Applicants will participate in the nationwide competitive examination on December 10, 1966, the only date on which the examination will be given as the first step toward a college education and a regular commission in the naval service.

All tuition, fees, and books are furnished by the Navy, and the student receives a subsistence allowance of $50 per month for not more than four years. During each summer between his college years, a midshipman participates in interesting training cruises. High school seniors and graduates who are entering college in September, 1967, and who will be at least 17 but not 21 years of age by July 1, 1967, may apply for the Navy College Aptitude Test.

Applications to the NCAT are available at local high schools and Navy Recruiting Stations or from the Chief of Naval Personnel, Department of the Navy, Washington, D. C.

FARM NEWS
S. O. Parker, of Basin Community, and a few other folks attended the income tax meeting for farmers a few days ago in our office in Auburn. Many farmers in Coffee County are not filing their return by February 15.

INCOME TAX
Smith pointed out to those attending some of the many ways that farmers can increase their income by being fully aware of the legal deductions. If you have specific questions, get in touch with the person who helped you file or if you wish, we will try to get the information for you.

GOOD FOUNDATION STOCK
Willie Phillips, of Route 2, Enterprise, bought four or five of the top gilts at the All Breed Hog Sale at the Houston Farm Center a few days ago. Phillips is a good producer and is planning to concentrate more on high production in the years ahead. James Daulton of our Auburn University staff-assisted Extension Farm Agent J. R. Speed in working with beef growers this past week on their expansion programs.

HERD HEALTH
Dr. Wallace Miller will lead the discussion at Thursday night's Brood Cow Management Short-course. His topic will be "Herd Health." I know that all beef cattle producers and others in the county interested in animal health will enjoy hearing him on Thursday night.

Looking on at the right is Dr. A. M. Wiggins, member of the faculty of the School of Veterinary Medicine at Auburn. Dr. Wiggins taught the final course on swine diseases. Twenty veterinarians from the Wiregrass enrolled in the twenty-hour short-course.

Minimum Wage Law
The new minimum wage law places farm workers under its provisions for the first time in history. According to Extension Public Affairs Specialist Fred Woods, agricultural workers covered by the law must be paid $1 an hour starting February 1, 1967. This increases to $1.15 on February 1, 1968, and $1.30 on February 1, 1969.

Airman Donaldson With Air Force In Montana
The airman, a 1965 graduate of Elba High School, will be trained on the job as an administrative specialist with the Air Force basic Defense Command.

PROGRAM PLANNING
About 75 Coffee County farmers and farm leaders have been involved in program planning in the past month. The chairman from each of the groups, which include all phases of agriculture, home economics, and 4-H Club work, will meet in a final meeting to give their reports on Tuesday night, November 15. Brown Byars is chairman of our County Extension Council and will preside at the November 15 meeting. We think that some excellent plans are being made and I am anxious to see them come through.
